Location

Mark Farm is situated in a region widely recognised for high-quality commercial forestry production. Located approximately 3 miles north-east of Creetown and 8 miles north-west of Gatehouse of Fleet, the property benefits from excellent ground and climatic conditions, supporting strong timber growth.

Its strategic location offers quick and efficient access to major timber processing facilities across southern Scotland and northern England, enhancing its commercial viability.

The property location and boundaries are shown on the sale and location plan within this brochure. The nearest postcode is: DG8 7ES and What3Words: anguished.anchorman.hissing

Directions & Access

From Gatehouse of Fleet, head north on the B796 for approximately 6 miles. At New Rusko, turn left towards Creetown and continue for a further 1.6 miles to reach the main gateway, marked as point A1 on the sale plan.

While the Timber Transport Forum classifies the B796 as a 'Severely Restricted' route for timber haulage, it is important to note that upgrading works, funded through the Strategic Timber Transport Fund, have been carried out. As a result, the road now supports access to several active commercial forestry operations in the surrounding area, showing its suitability for timber transport.

Description

Mark Farm comprises a substantial area of productive grass hill-land, currently utilised for livestock grazing and circa 2 hectares of mature conifer forestry on the west of the property. The land rises from approximately 130 metres to 380 metres above sea level, featuring a north-westerly aspect and gently undulating terrain. According to the James Hutton Institute Land Capability for Agriculture classification, the farm is graded between 4.2 and 6.3, indicating moderate to poor-quality agricultural land.

Given its location and physical characteristics, Mark Farm is considered well-suited to commercial afforestation, subject to consent from Scottish Forestry. Recent approvals for woodland creation on neighbouring properties to the south provide a positive precedent.

The property is bounded by established commercial forestry to the east, with grazing land to the south and west. A public road runs along the northern boundary, offering direct access to Gatehouse of Fleet and the A75, facilitating efficient timber transport. The farm is also well positioned in relation to key regional timber processors located at Lockerbie, Dalbeattie, Girvan, and Troon.

In addition to its commercial potential, the upper hill ground and eastern flank of the property offer challenging deer stalking opportunities, with both roe and red deer known to frequent the area.
